HATS THAT HELP

Hatsgiving is a registered 501c3 charity that relies on donations and volunteers to continue growing and reaching pediatric cancer patients around the country.

Hatsgiving has delivered to 19 states

Before they turn 20, about 1 in 285 children in the U.S. will have cancer.

Where the hats go

All of the hats collected will be distributed to cancer patients at regional pediatric cancer treatment centers. Since 2013, Hatsgiving has distributed 11,592 hats to 22 pediatric cancer treatment centers in 19 different states.

How to help

Just bring a new winter hat, sizes newborn to adult (store-bought or handmade) to any Hatsgiving collection site. Visit our website or speak to your local Hatsgiving representative for details on location and dates.

In 2017, an estimated 15,270 children and adolescents ages 0 to 19 were diagnosed with cancer

every donation matters

A project to collect soft, warm, winter hats for pediatric cancer patients.

The Story of Hatsgiving

The concept was developed in 2012 by Jeremy Wernick, who had just turned 8 years old. That was the second year he shaved his head to raise money and awareness for childhood cancer research. This got him thinking about kids who lose their hair during the colder months due to chemotherapy treatments, so he created Hatsgiving. The first official collection was held in 2013. Each year, Hatsgiving continues to grow thanks to all of the wonderful, warm hats that are so graciously donated.
